Introduction

Pakistan is achieving many successes now a days in diplomacy. It was the first anniversary of Markka-e-Haq which was celebrated in all over Pakistan. In these days of may last year Pakistan's military forces especially Pakistani Air Force protect its motherland from the evil eyes of enemy. This was the time when Pakistani nation became wall of stone and the Pakistan's enemy lost the war in every field. This was all possible due to our military discipline, determination and faith in Allah. Pakistan gained a huge success against the Indian aggression so called Operation Sindoor. This escalation was in the consequence of a false flag operation in occupied Jammu and Kashmir in which innocent Hindu civilians were killed brutally by militants.

" Pakistan clearly rejected the claim of Indian government and demand the formation of commission to investigate the matter "

Technology Overview

After this success world recognized Pakistan's military as one of the strongest and disciplined military in the world. India tried hard by using every means to tell the world that Pakistan was behind this ill action but World did not believe on India's false theory because India could not provide any strong evidence to prove that Pakistani government or Pakistani military was behind this. In this escalation between the two nuclear powers world accept the Pakistani point of view and Pakistan also win the war diplomatically. Pakistan's victory brought close the country to big powers of the world especially America. Muslim countries also started to see Pakistan as best intermediary . Saudi Arabia chose Pakistan for a big defense agreement according to which Pakistan and Saudi Arabia has become strong defense ally. Pakistan also played role in finishing the Gaza war and was the important country to help in negotiations with Hamas.

Key Findings & Impact

After all these successes there are many problems which Pakistan is facing internally politically and economically. Because of U.S Iran war hike in Oil prices broke the backbone of Pakistani middle class and elite as well. This increase was in the name of war but instead of this increase internationally Pakistani government threw a huge levy bomb on the public which did not any contact with hike price. By this increase in oil prices everything which is used in daily life by every person has increased automatically. Government has failed to relief the Pakistani public economic situation by its high diplomatic status. In short we can say public is safe from enemy's bombing but not from economic bomb.

What's Next?

In the last we admitted the success of success of our military and diplomacy of government which they got international forums. But this is not enough to give relief to the public. This gives happiness to public as their country getting high status but this cannot fill their desires. Pakistani loves their country more than their lives but not love their internal enemies who get benefits from these circumstances. In short Pakistani government should play role to relief their country's public.
